[redacted] Met with Jay Sourwine, Senate Internal Security Subcommittee staff, and advised him that we were unable to comply with his request for a blind memorandum on the Russian Orthodox Church matter for use by a senator on the floor of the Senate. (See Journal of 4 March.) Sourwine accepted this but then made a proposal based on the fact that a "contact" of the Subcommittee's has been in touch with a member of the Soviet Church delegation now in the United States

5. (cont'd.) employee for a 90-day period with the understanding the period would be extended if necessary. (Employment on a temporary basis is the normal method of employment by the Senate Subcommittee.)

Mr. Kendall reaffirmed Senator John Stennis' (D., Miss.) strong desire that [ ] start with the Subcommittee on Monday morning next. Pending approval of Subcommittee funds by the Senate Rules Committee, it may be necessary that [ ] continue on Agency rolls for a few days. In any event, Agency service for pay will terminate the close of the work day preceding the day [ ] is taken on the Senate roll.

[ ] Received a call from Mrs. Timko in the office of Representative Bob Casey (D., Tex.) requesting information for a constituent as to the proper method or point to pass intelligence information to the Agency. Mrs. Timko indicated that there appeared to be little substance to the item and that as a result did not desire this Agency to place any emphasis on the fact of the Congressman's request. After discussion [ ] advised Mrs. Timko that a proper address for the constituent would be [ ] Washington 25, D. C.
